

Vicki Smith is a transplanted Northerner who loves living in North Carolina. After growing up in Maine and going to college there as well, she left for Yale Divinity School, where she met and married Kevin, her husband of 26 years. She has served churches in Chicago, Texas, Pennsylvania, Ohio and North Carolina- coming to St John's from St Thomas in Reidsville NC. Vicki earned a Doctor of Ministry degree in Parish Revitalization from McCormick Seminary in 2002 and currently serves as co-chair of the Diocese of North Carolina Commission on Ministry. She also has experience serving on various social service boards and committees.

Her husband Kevin is the Scholarly Communications Director for the Perkins Library at Duke University. They both enjoy reading, walking and travel. Kevin is currently writing a book for the University of Chicago Press and Vicki is learning to play the mountain dulcimer. Their household also includes a big, red poodle named Siobhan and a 19 year old cat named Clarence Darrow.

Vicki's first Sunday at St. John's will be January 16, 2011
